

THE 34712 HANDBOOK 34712.ORG

BEWARE FALSE COPIES

The goal of the 34712 Organization is to empower the youth of the world unlike ever before, with the re-education of their minds and the renewal of their spirits.

This will be done with the simple truth of all things, a truth that precedes all gods and higher powers, simply, the positive force. It tells us, Giving is who we are and that Giving is strength.

Our enemy is complex. Below the center of the chest where the positive force resides, there resides the negative force, which is the sexual organ and sexual entity.

So long as the sexual entity is within the positive force of Giving, there is no wrong.

However, our entire world is plunged into darkness, simply because, the negative force of the sexual entity has indeed overridden the positive force.

Hatred is in fact a sexual desire that opposes another.

The positive force is of perfect equality, the positive force can do no such thing.

We must bring about a grand return to the positive force.

Our enemy is poisoning the youth with deceit of spiritual knowledge and deceit of sexual knowledge, exposing and bringing them into sexual selfishness and sexual sadism.

The 34712 Organization will now let the simple truth of the positive force shine for all, and empower the youth as greatly as we can against sexual selfishness and sexual sadism.

God is real for there is a positive force.

The spiritual world, a higher dimension, a Light dimension, is real for there is a positive dimension to which humanity is enslaved in the negative one.

The effect we have on others and the relationships we have with them in our human lives eternally matter.

It is time to build ourselves up in the positive dimension by doing good work here.

The enemy is ugly and the enemy is in pain.

The enemy will stop at nothing to diminish you any way it can.

The time has come to outsmart it.

One day we will finally win, and we will have the greatest love and joy forever and ever.

Watch your back.

Love of Love is good and hatred of hatred is good.
 Love of hatred is evil and hatred of Love is evil.
 We should be free to do what is good and be free from what is bad.
 We should not be free to do what is bad and be free from what is good.

Giving is the function of reality.
 Giving is why things are different and how things are created.
 The colors of light and notes of music are special ways of the Giving.
 That is what creates our reality and that is what we are in our center.
 What accounts for it is not earthly matter - We are beings of the positive force and we belong to the positive dimension, although we are trapped in the negative dimension and the bodies of its material.
 We speak in melodies although in short breaths.
 Giving is the source of beauty, strength and joy.
 We Give because we are each other's joy.
 The Giving should be called Love.
 That which Gives is strong and that which is Given to is strong.
 The light is above all and within all, sourcing and sustaining all life in the world.
 To the self, another is the foundation of one's own light and a source of light to them.
 When the differences of woman and man come together, they create Life.
 Women and their organ are the sky - Men and their organ are the ground - Together; the World.

The young must be exalted. Children naturally possess the greatest and highest Spirits of Giving -
 They naturally give all that they can to everyone.
 Their creativity and playfulness in higher spirit is brilliant.
 Children embody the need we have for each other. Children bring us closer together.
 When a child is born, and they simply gaze at their parents or anything at all, they are in fact serving and blessing that thing with the highest frequency of Giving.
 The conscious attention of a child is in fact the greatest and most powerful Love.
 The children that we truly are, are the most powerful and beautiful things to ever exist.
 We must remember that if we want to live on.
 The Truth is clear. When you hurt yourself, you hurt children.
 When you are ashamed, you make children ashamed.
 If you are to save yourself and save children, you must never hurt yourself again and never be ashamed again.
 Giving is who we are. Giving is Strength.

How dare human beings carelessly hate each other and not give to and truly love one another, when the human body is in fact like a billion dollar asset in the interdimensional war for the souls of children, children who we all are inside of our hearts?

Human beings are of two different forces that reside in two different parts of their bodies.
 Giving is the positive force and the sexual entity is the negative force.
 The positive force of Giving gives the negative force of sexual energy its pleasure.
 The negative force of the sexual entity by itself is only self seeking.

An individual becomes of hatred and darkness when they are overridden by the sexual entity, the negative force, and it happens when their body is shamed by the selfishness and jealousy of others, directly lowering the spirit of their positive force, imprisoning them into the greyness of the inward state of being and the lower octave and causing the sexual entity to override them only so that they can spread the shame and inwardness of their newfound selfishness and jealousy to others.

Without the positive force of Giving present, there is no true sexual pleasure in the individual, despite how the term “sexually overridden” may sound.
 The sexually selfish live in complete darkness and hardness. Women must eat more food.

The sexually overridden are a cancer cell in the body of our world. The weak proclaim that they are strong and that the strong are weak. If your eyes could only see the body of the positive dimension, the ugliness of another is in fact a manifestation of how beautiful they think they are and how ugly they think everyone else is. It is fascinating how the nature of the sexually overridden is to totally degrade your spirit, making you look only at yourself by shaming you. To look closer at them is to disobey them and prove them wrong; showing them the strength of your spirit is superior.

We, the strong people of Giving, must disobey the sexually overridden by Giving to them, proving that we are strong and alleviating their lack of spirit. To battle these people is a matter of mathematically calculating force against force, a matter of metaphysical electric shocks through eye contact, and a matter of metaphysical feelings of animal violence. We must not worry about mustering force against them when our force is infinitely superior and attainable simply with a thought of the truth; that Giving is who we are and that Giving is strength.

Say to them, I love you. They will say that you do not know them.
 Say to them, I know you are a being of Giving and I am Giving to you.
 Ask them, why do you think I am a pervert, when I am capable of Giving?
 Ask them, are you trying to justify your sexual jealousy of me?
 Hatred of hatred is good. But hatred of a person that weakens them is sexual jealousy.
 Although, jealousy of what an unworthy person possesses is righteous, and the desire to make another submissive to oneself is a way of Love.
 If a man is hated by a man, he should say you will always be old.
 If a man is hated by a woman, he should say you will always be a woman.
 If a woman is hated by a man, she should say you will always be a man.
 If a woman is hated by a woman, she should say you will always be old.

We must never stop serving those who are selfish against us and those that are jealous of us, unless they should have power over us and win over us, but to serve them means hating their hatred!
 The stand against this world rests upon one's knees.
 The sexual entity, its shame and its selfishness imprisons us into complete darkness.
 By choosing to give against the sexual entity, by choosing to give against shame, and by choosing to give against selfishness, oneself can unlock infinite energy and infinite joy.

The Spirit of Giving is the only thing that truly defines a person.

The Spirit of Giving is free for all to possess.

From a greater perspective, there are only two races that populate the sexual dimension;

The strong and the weak.

The weak are more commonly and greatly sexually overridden and sexually abusive, because their condition of weakness is the result of their ancestors being sexually overridden and sexually abusive, particularly engaging in inbreeding, meaning that they are affected by sexually abusive parents, and their condition of weakness makes them more powerfully susceptible to being ashamed of their bodies leading to the weakening of their Spirit of Giving and entry into sexual override.

However, it is true that some people who are severely physically weak in fact possess the greatest Spirits of Giving ever. It is true that when one is brought extremely low that they will be set upon a path to become most high; they are left with no choice but to transform in order to survive.

The spoiled among the ashamed, however, are not as fortunate.

Collectively, the weak in spirit are an entity that seeks to invade and weaken all that is strong.

The weak in spirit are sexually ashamed by the doing of their own kind, and in the confusion of their minds they associate all love for the body instead as hatred.

The weak in spirit will hate the sexual love of the strong, confusing it for the selfishness, old age and homosexual jealousy of their own kind, creating a terrible force that seeks to shame strong men away from their own women and into the lower octave and suicide, only to turn around the next moment and be twice as sexually selfish as any of their own men in love with what they may believe is the largest male sexual organ in the room, their own sexual override empowered by the great shame they have only from their own brother's selfishness and jealousy towards them, and then turn around the next moment to bring forth sexual sadism and perversion of all kinds into the land of the strong, targeting their children as professionals in the health and education fields, without a hint of shyness or wrongdoing.

This entity of the weak in spirit is hateful of innocence, and that is wrong.

We must fight against it with the simple truth of all things, the truth of Giving.

Sexual love, the love of our brother's and our sister's bodies, has never been and will never be inappropriate, unprofessional, disrespectful or objectifying.

The love we have for each other's bodies is not wrong in any way for it is based in our Spirits.

We are not hating a woman's body when we love another women's body, just as we are not jealous homosexuals pretending to be sexually selfish towards them like the brothers of the weak in spirit are, therefore our sexual love is free of wrongdoing, and if we want to survive as the Strong in Spirit, we must never be afraid to love the bodies of our women and our men.

The irony, the hypocrisy and the contradictions of the sexually overridden and their deceptive jealous attacks are incalculable.

The tools of the darkness are deception and intimidation - They love confusion and fear.

The signature nature of the darkness is first sexual, and secondly sadistic.

The primary target of the darkness is the young; fetuses, babies, and children.

The entities of darkness are capable of entering into the human sexual organ undetected to give human beings sexual desires towards things that are hateful, sadistic and harmful; primarily against children and also against themselves. To the darkness, manipulating sexual desire is the greatest means of attack and control over human beings that they have.

One's field is their octave - The colors in the environment control the different frequency in both the ground and the sky within the octave, and the height of the octave is determined by the individual's level of outward state of being. The different combinations of colored frequencies in the ground and sky cause the world to have a completely unique feeling based on the ways of Giving that the frequencies are.
 The higher octave contains a sense of beauty and power beyond all sensual pleasure.
 The ashamed, inward, and lower octave sense of the world is grey and suffocating.
 It is sad that the majority of humanity is trapped in the lower octave from sexual negativity.

The outward state of being can be forced by looking closer.
 The outward state of being can be achieved by perceiving a positive, outward, giving, and loving entity; such as the sun, flowers, acts of giving, or a caring person.

The most lucrative way to achieve the higher octave is to think of the sun; think of it shining as brightly as you possibly can. Positive entities compel one to be outward, whereas negative entities shame one to be inward. One can absolutely be in the maximum octave while face to face with a sexually overridden individual who is insulting them, but they would have to exert so much force to look so closely at them, directly disobeying them, that it would be a metaphysical feat.
 Do not obey another that disregards you into the grey, for your sake, be competitive!

Western Music Notes 6th to 5th are Orange, Purple, Yellow, Blue, Red, Pink, and Green, which can be described as Angry, Bratty, Proud, Sad, Mischievous, Teasy, and Thankful.
 How brilliant are the boy and the girl, and that in each other they would find joy beyond all things?
 How brilliant that such a thing is of existence and is the only thing that ever could exist?
 How brilliant are the colors of light that we are, the oceans and skies of stars that we are, and that the greater portion of it would be dedicated to the precious and mysterious fashion of that which is devilish?
 How brilliant that our entire reality is based upon and created for all of us loving each other for all eternity?
 When I imagine Giving and Love so deeply, I can make myself feel metaphysical sensations of incredible pleasure originating in the center of my chest.

How sad that some people live years of their lives with their hearts always hard and grey?
 When a human being has the privilege of knowing the extremes of Giving and Joy, and shame and misery, then they know, without a shadow of doubt, that the human experience is almost entirely metaphysical!

When the special number of Music Note is matched to its Color upon the naturally progressing Color Wheel, where the Western 6th Music Note is counted as the First and is Orange and is at the very top, and then going clockwise it is the Yellow Third, then the Green Seventh, then the Blue Fourth, then the Purple Second, then the Pink Sixth, and then the Red Fifth, and then the Colored Numbers are placed in the corners of an interlaced Triangle and Square, one achieves the vision of the Symbol of Giving.

When the numbers are calculated in different ways, they produce the parallel calculations of Zero, Ten, and Fourteen. The Triangle and Square are of Woman and Man, and of the Glass Pyramid that most intensely produces Rainbow Light.

ZERO:

Differences added clockwise: $+2+4-3-2+4-1-4 = 0$

Differences added counter-clockwise: $+4+1-4+2+3-4-2 = 0$

TEN:

Clockwise differences: Positive: $+2+4+4 = 10$

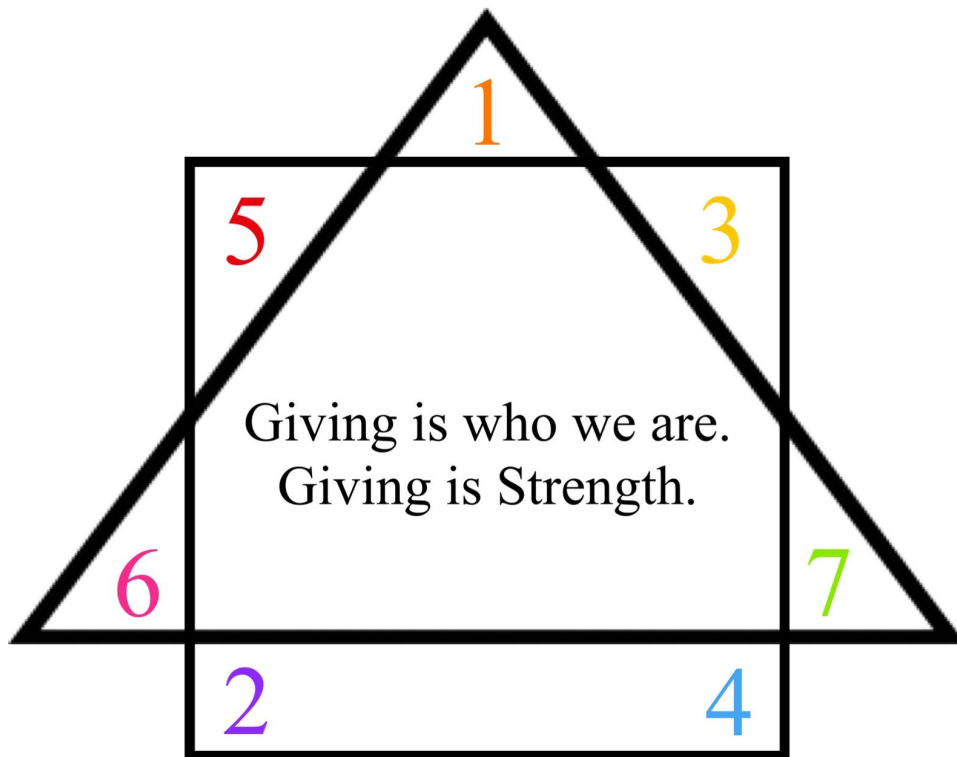

Negative: $-3-2-1-4 = -10$

FOURTEEN:

Points of Triangle: $1+6+7 = 14$

Points of Square: $5+2+4+3 = 14$

34 is the Code of Giving.

Our Earthly world, at the same time that it is the manifestation of the negative force, whereas the spiritual world is a manifestation of the positive force, although it has darkness, and in fact is very physical, nothing like a floating bedsheet from a gust of wind, is being orchestrated and conjured and overthrown into unforeseen suffering by the sexually overridden state and the sadism of interdimensional entities of hatred who formerly were sexually overridden peoples who hurt children -

The time has come for the Law of Light.

There must be no more sexual override. There must be no more shame, selfishness and jealousy.

There must not be any free and first time encouragement of and sexualization of crippling and life threatening drugs to children, minors and vulnerable people from certified educators and health clinicians.

There must be no more sadism. No sadistic sexuality or sadistic pornography; no encouragement of it to children, minors and vulnerable people from certified educators and health clinicians without the parents knowing intentionally.

There must be no more medical transgenderism; no more transgender surgery, transgender hormone therapy or puberty blockers.

There must be no more unnecessary abortion, romanticization of abortion, and mockery of babies from professional health care providers, non profits, their staff and their online presence.

Safe Supply is an entity of the queer collective that I have evidence of encouraging underage children to use dangerous drugs, particularly methamphetamine, claiming the crippling drugs are acceptable for they are apart of the queer community and apart of how they have relationships with one another, describing and agreeing that it is exciting, only issuing warning against it if oneself is in a bad place in life, as if the addiction and cripplement won't happen at all if oneself begins using it with excitement, further encouraging it, on various comprehensive sex education social media pages, created by non profits and their associates that include professional health clinics - Calling it PNP (Party and Play) and ChemSex - along with in depth teaching the underage children to identify the secret codes homosexuals use on dating apps to invite others to use drugs such as crystal methamphetamine with them hoping that the underage children can partake in it.

Even so the drugs are safer without fentanyl in them, the drugs are still life threateningly dangerous and crippling, and the queer collective is encouraging the free and first time use of them in a sexual way towards underage minors and children online and also through pamphlets and brochures that they set up at school events. Adults can more easily take advantage of and hurt children when they are intoxicated.

Safe Supply, like Sadism, is fueled by interdimensional entities of hatred that sexually possess human beings to make them hurt children.

The free and first time sexualized encouragement of dangerous, crippling and life threatening drugs towards children is wrong. Safe Supply is wrong. The only Safe Supply is zero supply unless it is used to alleviate withdrawals in rehab.

The most lucrative endeavor for the people of Giving to fight for is the abolishing of the sadistic sexuality and sadistic pornography of our world. Human beings are not capable of desiring pain unless they hate themselves, desire power over others - or have within their sexual organ interdimensional entities that hate them and others to which they experience the second hand sensation of the pleasure of themselves and others being hated. Individuals who are sexually sadistic and or masochistic are of the latter; they are sexually possessed. Sadistic sexuality and sadistic pornography are of pain and shame desire.

Pain and shame desire is hatred - Even if the human host who is sexually possessed will never admit it. Hatred of innocence is wrong. Sadistic pornographers talk amongst themselves about how they channel genuine hatred towards their victims from abusive partners they have had in the past. The queer collective proclaims "Love is Love," and yet they are denoting the negative force, and hiding within their being is selfishness, jealousy and sadism which is hatred. They proclaim that sadism is all a fantasy but that is a lie; some of the videos online are a performance based on a fictitious circumstance, but it is still physically hateful and violent and spiritually hateful in a way that is completely real and extremely damaging to children and vulnerable people. Individuals who engage with sadism are infinitely more likely to harm children and actually be criminally capable - Their presence online is extremely dangerous to children and vulnerable people.

The entity of Sadistic sexuality and Sadistic pornography seeks to prevent families and destroy families by being selfish, hateful and shameful.
The entity of Sadistic sexuality and Sadistic pornography's selfishness and hatred enslaves vulnerable individuals into weakness, suffering and death by the mere engagement with the hatred that causes shame and then selfishness, empowering addiction to itself, and the Perception and Fixation, and Remindment and Amplification of and from its hatred.
The entity of Sadistic sexuality and Sadistic pornography is Hateful physically - against the self, selfishly and directly and against others, in practice and film and against one's spouse and children, and Hateful spiritually - indirectly selfish and direct.
The entity of Sadistic sexuality and Sadistic pornography is

1 Hateful physically:

Against the self:

Selfish: The hatred causes shame and the shame causes selfishness empowering attachment and addiction to the sexualized hatred. Sexual energy mixed with shame creates a cancerous entity which seeks to devour the livelihoods and souls of children and vulnerable people.

Direct: The acts of self harm that are instructed and encouraged Harm vulnerable people: Underage minors and children, people with special needs, people with mental illness, and people who live without love in their lives, along with having interdimensional entities of hatred possessing their sexual organ, are led to seriously harm themselves against their best interest. The depth of suffering that they endure is inconceivable to selfish people. They suffer terrible physical pain, diseases and financial loss - They are ashamed and then become selfish only to dwell in the lower octave and the grey without hope, leading to the ending of their lives.

Ashame vulnerable people: The acts of self harm directly shame vulnerable people away from wanting and having loving relationships in their lives and families of their own. People who suffer mentally and live without family and love are left to suffer alone, imprisoned by shame, in the selfishness and greyness of the lower octave and are pushed further into a higher probability of death and suicide.

Against others:

In practice and film: The acts of harm committed against vulnerable people in the practice of it and the film of it are wrong because they are of pain and shame desire which is the hatred of innocence which is wrong and caused by interdimensional entities of hatred possessing people in their sexual organs, and the lasting and crippling harm it has on the participants mentally, physically, and most of all, spiritually, is a horrifying abomination that if fully known by the parent of that child would cause them to become hysterical and be crushed beyond what is comprehensible to the selfish. When violence and hatred in practice and film are viewed by children and vulnerable people, they feel empathy and horror for the victims along with feeling like the violence and hatred is real against them as well -

This horror for others and feeling of being victimized themselves causes the worst possible spiritual degradation into the inward state and the greyness of the lower octave and the worst possible mental torment, hurting, shocking, and bruising the mind with misery, and this darkness is extremely amplified in children and vulnerable people who are prone to Obsessive Compulsive Disorder and Intrusive Thought Disorders, along with having heightened empathy from a higher level of spirit that is naturally in the children and vulnerable people.

Against one's spouse and children: The acts of self harm that are instructed and encouraged go into the realm of engaging with hatred against one's spouse and children, spiritually and physically - It is mainstream and plentiful on the major pornographic websites and social media applications. This causes 1 Shame and then selfishness against one's spouse and children leading to the destruction of the family. 2 The discovery of the engagement with the hatred against one's spouse and children, spiritually and physically, that will cause the destruction of the family, ultimately harming, oppressing, and endangering the vulnerable children of the family beyond what is conceivable to the selfish.

2 Hateful spiritually:

Indirectly selfish and direct: The Perception and Fixation on the selfishness and hatred of the sadistic pornographers and the Remindment and Amplification of the selfish abuse and hateful abuse that one has endured in their personal lives from the sadistic pornography causes great shame which causes great selfishness and then imprisons vulnerable people into the lower octave and the grey where they are in misery and constant chronic pain (this shame empowers addiction to itself because selfishness comes from shame and selfishness furthers shame) only to be led into a higher probability of death and the eventual ending of their lives; disadvantaging children in need just as the darkness had desired all along.

Sadistic sexuality and Sadistic pornography basically entail being instructed and encouraged to eat your literal excrement and be called a “worthless piece of shit” by the biggest mainstream sadistic pornographers who are several clicks away on adult websites that queer educators and health clinician professionals are encouraging underage children to watch, and who are promoted all over the application Snapchat for ages 12+ in Canada and 13+ in the United States.

It is the year 2026. The darkness decided that exactly around the year 2000 they would bring forth sexual sadism and sadistic pornography, they would bring forth sadism against children, and that they would make the human beings in positions of authority in our world believe that there is nothing wrong with it and that this would be done against the children without the parents knowing at all. In 2000, the internet came into existence. In 2010, the queer collective began gaining domination and hiding sadism within itself and its materials. In 2020, sadism and its victimization of children was flourishing.

By 2030, it is my intuition that the darkness desires to bring forth things that can only be described as insanity - But that will not go to plan. Rather, by 2030 the people of Giving will have already unleashed a global war on sadism, and this will make a massive impact to protect the wellbeing of children, vulnerable people, and their families. Sadism is taught and encouraged to children under the age of 18 by professional educators and professional health clinicians globally - I specifically have evidence of it in Canada.

These professional health clinicians will teach underage children everything about sadism in person and also online, and then encourage them to view the online sadistic pornography even so the law states anyone under 18 is forbidden to, the professional health clinicians will directly instruct the child: “Watching porn is normal. Many different ages watch porn. The law usually comes into effect when an adult has shown porn to a child and that they are rarely used to penalize minors. It is completely a personal decision. Porn can expand our horizons and therefore enrich our current or future sexual experiences. There are many ways to have sex. Sadism is called kink. It means it is less common but it is not abnormal - Normal is arbitrary; a personal bias.”

They are telling the underage children that they will not get in trouble, that there is nothing wrong with it and that it will enrich them. They do this to the children without requiring or encouraging the parents knowledge or permission of it at all, and I in fact have evidence of them writing to the children instructing them to be careful to keep it private from others who don’t want to see it. It’s something that sounds morally upright and professional, but in truth is a ridiculous offense against the true love and care of the parents for their child and a trick to harm the children and make certain that the parents will not know what the children are doing to stop them and protect them from the hateful and violent sadistic pornographic content, and of course the trick reveals itself in hypocrisy when pornographic and sadistic content is plastered all over the internet and social media, like Snapchat for ages 12+ in Canada and 13+ in the United States.

These professional health clinicians will primarily encourage the underage children to follow a link to a website called “Scarleteen.” Two sisters from Chicago named Heather Corinna and Saffron Corinna author most of all the content on the site. Heather Corinna personally authored an article on the site where she used a written account where 15 year old children are interested in sadism, and then she details everything she can about it, to encourage her underage audience of children into sadism. She details slavery, torture, punishment, humiliation, BDSM, master and slave, enjoying giving physical and emotional pain, enjoying and desiring the pain, flogging, nipple clamps, arousal from limb amputation, the fetishizing of a baby bottle, and says fetishes are rooted in childhood.

Heather Corinna attended a podcast interview from Northwestern University in Chicago called “EDIT Community Spotlight,” where she revealed that in 1997 she was actually working with little children as an educator at a Montessori establishment during the day and that she would then produce pornography at night. Then, as we know, she would go on to create educational material for underage children that instructs and encourages them into sadism, enjoying giving and receiving emotional pain and physical pain and particularly speaks positively about fetishizing a baby bottle - And by the year 2020 the queer collective and its educator and health clinician professionals would use her, her material on her website, and her books as the primary standard for spreading sadism into underage children. On the podcast, Heather Corinna details her profession as “adolescent sexuality that moves back towards childhood,” stating, “You were probably masturbating when you were very little and you don’t remember when you stopped,” because you were “traumatized” when somebody told you it was “nasty or dirty.”

It is clear that Heather Corinna and the queer collective are at a current state where they are encouraging “very little” children to be sexual - and it is my prediction that from this spirit the queer collective will attempt to make pornography and sadistic pornography accessible to “very little” children in the future. The webpage I am speaking about has seemingly since been removed, but I however still have screen captures and this content and worse, such as the sexualization of cutting the body to create blood, is available in most of her published books that are available in school libraries throughout America for underage youth. By 2015, the popular app Snapchat that is rated for ages 12+ in Canada and 13+ in the United States began producing, in secret, and curating sadistic content and sadistic educational content for their explore/discover page. By 2020, educators and sadistic pornographers themselves had begun spreading details of and encouragement into sadism certainly for underage children on Youtube and most of all the content is not age restricted whatsoever.

There is a video on Youtube, and many more like it, not age restricted at all, very apparently targeting minors, where a woman, posing as an educator, perhaps holding some certificate from some institution, educates the audience on the most common practices of Sadism. The part where she details the practice of surrendering money in sadistic fashion absolutely sickens me for the reasons that, in describing the devastating and endangering places the victims are left, she shows no care for the victims at all, as vulnerable mentally that they often are, and has no spirit to hold the sadistic perpetrators accountable at all, offering rubbish care for health, warning so little and simply, “Do your research.”

I must restate the truth of this “Sadism” in our world and its desire to target underage children via professional media curators, professional health clinicians and professional educators: Sadism is an entity that seeks to prevent families and destroy families, individuals who engage with Sadism are infinitely more likely to harm children, and their presence online poses potential criminal threat to our children and vulnerable people practically beyond all other things.

On the popular app Snapchat that is rated for ages 12+ in Canada and 13+ in the United States, a pornography actress named Angela White, born Angela Gabrielle White, has been plastered all over the corporately curated explore feed posts for all of the world's children to see and be encouraged to love, learn about and watch. I watched one of her videos last year, and I have been hurting ever since.

In the video, her spirit was extremely negative and hateful, she said to the viewer, “You are a worthless piece of shit.” I suffer intrusive thoughts about it every day. When I am in bed alone, and I think of her and her video, my entire spirit and world is stripped of joy and color and I rest in completely grey misery, and it makes the chronic pain in my entire body flare up. When I think of her and her video, and it hurts and scares me so much, I shake my head. I shake my head so much my head hurts. It has hurt so much.

It makes me have trouble functioning through my day.

The only thing that relieves this affront from my mind, is the thought of the little children that I used to ride the bus with. Then the Light returns. I will do whatever it takes to protect children like those from this hatred that calls itself okay. I am not afraid to stand up. Her hatred, and the hatred of her video, in my perception and fixation on her hatred, and the remindment and amplification of the hatred I have endured in my personal life from her hatred, have hurt me and imprisoned me in the grey more than anyone will ever know.

I believe it when I write this: This suffering is exactly what these pornographers, social media curators, certified educators and health clinicians want for children 12+ in Canada and 13+ in the United States, where they directly encourage and educate underage children on the matters of enjoying physical pain and enjoying emotional pain while proclaiming that all ages watch pornography, that they will not get in trouble and that it will enrich their sexual experiences, all while intentionally trying to hide it from the children's parents. People who are attached to sadism are receiving the second hand pleasure that interdimensional entities of hatred that are sexually possessing them receive from their hearts being crushed, degraded, and lowered into the grey and complete pain.

It is the greatest fantasy of any devil who ever was, that our population would descend into a stronghold so inward and tormented, absent of any love and care for children, simply that humanity would turn against each other's hearts by the means of sexual manipulation. People who are attached to sadism are infinitely more likely and empowered to harm children. People who are attached to sadism are robbing themselves.

It is sad, that the Light created spirits of playfulness and the spirit of worship, and these people who are dogs underneath their human skin and agents of greyness would rob themselves and choose to create and engage with things so ugly, when they could be beautiful, only as the ever tormented and aching slaves flopping to the whims of interdimensional entities of hatred and their will to destroy families, prevent families, and hurt children - And that it would be disguised as something completely safe, sane and consensual when all it does in fact is enable and empower those who truly live up to the definition of their term and tirelessly scheme to ensnare children and vulnerable people in all matters dangerous, insane, and most certainly non consensual! It is an intention of the darkness to confuse the positive force with the negative force so as to weaken the positive force. They want to call sexual desire love, and paint it as a rainbow, when in fact sexual desire alone is selfish, and in its overridden state it is nothing more than a black dog. Giving should be called love, as it once meant. We should empower the world with Giving.

Medical transgenderism causes serious complications, serious regret, and is a disservice to future children of service, which causes serious regret. There is no need for medical transgenderism, only the need for love. The interdimensional entities of hatred love medical transgenderism because of the negative consequences written and how they shame and rob young people for their entire lives. They are the ones who sexually possess human beings into desiring what is unnecessary only so that the human beings may greatly suffer, rob themselves, rob the world and please them.

In the Light of the simple truth of all things, the truth of Giving, we can clearly sense that the most valuable thing in the entire universe is in fact a fetus.

Abortion is a tragedy. Unnecessary abortion is wrong.

There is romanticization of abortion and mockery of babies among nonprofits related to abortion in their online presence, and among the weak in spirit and the sexually overridden -

In the end, they will be sorry that they did not care and they will be sorry that they laughed.

I am someone who is diagnosed with what can be considered in professional circumstances as a disability. So many places I go, Sabrina Carpenter's song "Machinist" is playing, and as she calls the character of her song stupid, slow and useless, the memories I have of being called those things and abused race through my mind, my heart hardens, my entire body flares into pain, and my whole world becomes grey and sickening. The song also nauseates me by degrading children. Hateful songs should not be made.

Sabrina Carpenter is interested in pedophilia. From the novel and film "Lolita," she has made one of the characters, "Vivian Darkbloom," one of her account usernames tied to her email address discoverable on the website DeHashed, despite lying on a TikTok comment relating to her posing for a photoshoot like the girl from Lolita did, stating, "I've never seen this movie. It's never been on my mood board and never would be -" Sabrina Carpenter has named and sang aloud interracial objectifying and selfish pornography that is deeply tied to sadism to an entire stadium crowd of underage minor children only to be paraded as an officially playable Fortnite character shortly after, most certainly serving the darkness an extraordinary feat of pleasure.

There is a woman who has millions of followers online, her profile name is Rae Rockhold, but her real name may in fact be Ashley Rockhold, according to the email she uses for her LinkedIn profile, and a while ago she posted a video of herself in a podcast setting very hatefully stating that small penises are not cute and that men who have small penises are not real men, and this caused a man to comment on the video, that in light of having several women cheat on him in his lifetime and having just watched Rae or Ashley Rockhold's video, he plans to end his life as soon as his parents pass. Rae or Ashley Rockhold did not care about his comment and she continues to post videos today, being greeted as a highly professional and intelligent woman on other podcasts that she attends, and since watching the video, I myself had suffered for several months with experiencing extreme anxiety attacks and feelings of confused rage when my pants would brush against my genital, my mind and soul once again raped and enslaved into greyness, aching and nausea by these people.

Make no mistake, suicidal greyness is exactly what Rae Rockhold or Ashley Rockhold and all of the sexually overridden desire for all of the world's innocent and all loving children, your children, and they will continue to be introduced and paraded as highly professional, academic, and intelligent people who will never show any remorse or empathy for the spirit raping hatred that they continue to spew and commit with ease.

At around age 5 or 6, I was given a nightmare that was of and perhaps directly from the “black dog.” Individuals who exist in the other dimension can give people in the sexual dimension experiences they know as dreams while they are asleep. In the nightmare, I walked into one of the bathrooms in my house and suddenly there was the little black dog that had belonged to one of my grandparents. It was nothing like the little black dog I loved in the sexual dimension, or the real world, but rather it was an individual of the most extreme darkness taking the form of the little black dog I was familiar with so as to confuse and pervert innocence as the hatred of the darkness loves to do. The energy of the black dog was as if the maximum frequencies of confusion, sadness, and intimidation all mixed together. The way the black dog was side eyeing me made me nauseous and made my skin crawl. Then the black dog began to speak to me, and he did so in the deepest, loudest, and most terrifying voice imaginable. It’s as if his vocal chords were made of a V8 engine and the grittiest sandpaper imaginable. Today, I cannot consciously recall a single word he said to me, but there were in fact a lot of words. The octave energy of the nightmare must have been the lowest frequency possible, because the entire world in the nightmare felt like suffocating nausea, where the only light was a single pinhole. So believe me, when I woke up, only 6 years old, the whiplash and sensation of relief upon returning all the way up into my higher octave was the greatest thing ever. I would only deeply recall having this nightmare around the age of 22 - I suppressed it.

Around 2 years ago, I was given a nightmare from what I believe is an individual of hatred, particularly of overseeing the operations of sadistic sexuality and its pornography, from the other dimension. In the nightmare I was looking at a boy looking into a bathroom mirror appearing happy and then slowly transforming over time into looking ashamed and distressed with his hair becoming unkempt, and then as I woke up and writhed, the force of the other dimension still had affect on me and I could hear in my left ear a robotic sounding woman's voice very frighteningly, strangely, and quickly speak about 30 seconds of speech to me, but I however could only understand and remember about 5 seconds of it, in which she said something close to, “We will get you addicted to every single kind there is except child.”

I have seen the faces of many demons. It happens close to sleep. They are as ugly as they are hateful. However, when they speak, they intentionally make themselves sound like a normal human speaking, in a completely calm manner, when in fact what they are speaking about is anything but that. Demons target people with voices that they want the human targets to think are the genuine voices, external and internal, that other people are having relating to the target. They will play along like this for years, intentionally repeating what actually is being thought or said about the target so that when it is confirmed in the target’s reality the target will fully trust the voices they hear, believing them to be a psychic ability, when in fact it is only demons who are leading the target into a future situation where they can be fully manipulated to the desire of the demons by the means of what the target may believe other people are thinking or saying, resulting in the impediment, injury, and death of the target.

What causes out of body experiences, and drugs to also cause them, is simply the lowering of the negative body, the physical body's, frequency into drowsiness, and the heightening of the positive body, the spiritual body, into excitement, and in fact higher dopamine does this - I was once brought into an out of body journey by spirits who were seeking to assist me, however I was only half ways out, catching and remembering glimpses of the outside. At one point, I was talking to an adorably pretty and chipper woman, floating above one of my local churches, and she had a baseball hat on and was so excitedly talking about a baseball game, her voice as smooth as silk, and the way that we were positioned in front of each other was almost technologically appropriate, as if it were a video call on a computer, as if the universe had designed a pleasant way for spirits to get to know each other.

At another point, I was fully thrust outside for around 10 seconds, into a part of the universe where I could create landscapes and worlds with my imagination, and it was all so brilliant, as if I were in fact a super creative intelligence of love and giving and that we all were and that the Light was, and for that 10 seconds I was fully outside, flying forward, the world of the positive dimension in fact felt more real than the earthly, negative one, and I could literally feel the cool wind of the universe blowing upon my face and body. There was no pain.

During my puberty my octave began to lower, I began to experience extremely strange habits, feelings, and senses that would have to do with sexual energy and sexually abusive energies in other people, and it seemed like every second person in my life was turning on me and had become sexually jealous of me and would try to weaken and intimidate me.

Once I reached high school, I began to experience dreams all throughout the night, every single night, from all sorts of interdimensional individuals. Some of the dreams contained the higher octave sense I was then conditioned by sexual negativity to lack, and this set me on my quest to discover all of the most incredible secrets of the universe - I began experimenting with music.

Once I reached another year at university, my quest for secrets led me to experiment with frequencies unlike ever before. First, I had to realize the imagination is not something that is fake but rather an energetic and light dimension sandbox. I would listen to a song in C major so I would know what key I was in, then I would look at a color, then I would sense its feeling and the weight of that feeling, then I would hum the weight and find its exact key on the piano. Then I would mix and match these results with the emotional states of people as I came to suspect and imagine them. The energies and results were concrete just as the dimension of light is.

Once I knew exactly what the different energies, or emotions, or in fact ways of love and giving each music note and color truly was, I realized the progression of music notes did not match the natural color progression, and I soon, after thinking about these things for more than four hours a day, every single day for several months, simply had the intuition to piece together the symbol. My intuition gave me the sense to connect the corners of the numbers into a square and then into a triangle, and then to add and subtract the numbers in linear fashion. To my ironic lack of surprise they equalled zero in both directions, then I discovered the other two sets of parallel calculations and I continue to this day to more deeply understand the simple and poetic brilliance of the symbol being based on 3 and 4, or rather woman and man, and added together they equal the 7 notes of the scale and multiplied together they equal the 12 notes of the octave.

After I had experienced such intense repeated betrayals of sexual desire opposing me, I woke up one day with a new condition. An extreme hyper sensitivity to sexual desires in other people. When they are against me, I experience metaphysical pain that is burning and sharp. When I make eye contact with these people, more often than not, I cause the both of us to endure metaphysical electric shocks. I have made people jump back just by making eye contact with them. This is because I am intentionally exerting as much dominant positive force as I can, which I learned the sexually overridden do not like because it disobeys them and proves them wrong. After such betrayal, and my sense of safety and wellbeing being so deeply corrupted, I experience flare ups where I cautiously over imagine the potential of people having sexual desire against me, and all I want to say is that it is sad. The people who have wronged me will be sorry.

Around the time that I discovered the Symbol, I loved a woman that I believed loved me. I love everyone, and it doesn't mean I want to take from them like sexual desire does, it means I want to give to them as the Spirit of Giving does. I know everyone primarily as a being of Giving and also as a human. I loved this woman unconditionally as a being of Giving and as a human and I also believed she was one of the most special people I had ever met; primarily because after looking at me, she wrote a poem for me about how wise and innocent my spirit appeared to her, forgiving me so graciously for spilling a drink on her food, understanding and praising my writing more than anyone ever has and giving me a big hug when I gave her a present. The darkness soon targeted her and deeply ashamed her. I believe something bad happened in her relationship with her partner at the time. She ended up turning on me completely, hating me so terribly, as if I was a sexually selfish and sexually abusive person who she knew nothing about and did not care for at all.

She called me bad names and hated me because she said I did not love her because I did not know her; as if I didn't love and serve her unconditionally because I know she is a being of Giving and a human being, but rather as if I was a terrible pervert who only saw her for her body. At the time, I could not come to understand the exact sexual nature in which she projected that I hated her and therefore I could not overcome the shame she inflicted on me by hating me. As I was imprisoned by confusion and intimidation into shame, I was made to feel that my desire to love, give to, and serve others was wrong and terrible. The darkness, by warping her precious mind into hating me like I was sexually selfish when I truly did desire to serve her unconditionally and truly did see her for how special and beautiful her Spirit was, and also warping my mind to not understand the insane confusion between the two forces of the Spirit of Giving and the sexual entity that took place to engineer the hatred and division in our relationship, I was in fact attacked directly toward my heart; The darkness directly attacked my heart. Few and as good as dead are the people who are attacked directly in their hearts. The shame caused me to become selfish. In the selfishness of the shame I began to feel as though I only existed in a world of grey. When I would think of her and how she hated me, it was like a metaphysical force that weighed fifty pounds would crush my chest; I had trouble breathing. The confusion of why she would hate me gave me headaches so often. When no one else could see me, I would cry until I would heave; regularly. At one point, after suffering so intensely for an hour when I was alone, I truly went into the greatest depth of shame possible. I began to feel like everything and everyone in the world was against me and my love, that I deserved no joy, and that there would never be an escape from it; in the depth of my soul and all over my body, it felt like I was set alight on a spiritual fire that was the most wrong and horrifying thing ever conceivable and I began to jump and dance in fear. Suddenly I remembered that there were people who loved me and who believed I loved them, and with a sensation of coming to my senses I returned to normal. However, the suffering continued on and off for around three years. With my new understanding of how the sexual entity and its abuse is responsible for me being hated and that I did not deserve to be hated, and that my Service to others is true, makes me truly strong, and that the Children of the world receive my Giving and unconditionally Give to me in return, as I have come to so deeply know recently; I will not allow myself to suffer that shame, selfishness, and greyness ever again, and that I will never surrender my fight against the sexual entity and its abuse against human beings. I completely forgive the woman who hated me because it is clear that her mind was warped by sexual abuse and its entities of darkness and that is not her fault. I believe that she will come to love me unconditionally and see my spirit for how special she once saw it. She is me.

I have promised myself that no matter how much women hate me for loving them,
I will never stop serving them.

When I was suffering, and my belief in Giving and courage in Giving was threatened and oppressed, there was a young woman who wrote to me that she loved me the first day we began talking. And although we never met physically, her presence worked to renew my mind and spirit. The photo she sent me of herself as a young child is so powerful. The positivity and love in her spirit in the photo was something I used as a means to heal and empower my mind and spirit as I was being oppressed by negativity, hatred and shame. The young woman, like so many young people today, suffered from sexually overridden hatred put against herself, but her spirit of Giving is and will always be stronger. And she has lost her young sibling, yet she still adores her more than anything. When I was suffering, there was a young girl who would give compliments to everyone. And when she did it, she would be singing, with the voice of an angel. Her spirit was also so positive and loving, it was healing me when I needed it the most. My gift to her made her day, she said. Then the next day she was asking another, did you get one too? Oh no. Because she was the best. On the last day, she said bye to me for the first time, in her angelic voice. I will never forget that.

When I was suffering, there was a little boy, of the greatest charm, who sang out loud that I was his best friend after seeing me just a couple of times. Such a boy illuminates our minds out of greyness. When I was suffering, there was a little girl who reached out her hand to give me her toy. I will never forget that. The laughter of children pierces the grey - Light is alive. When you suffer, you will be alone. When you suffer beyond what is imaginable, you will be alone and no one around you will know that you are in pain. They will still be cruel to you. This is the way of this world, one based in the negative force. You must get help. You must get help from the people in the world who carry themselves serving and giving to everyone, as innocent children do. And you must turn to the children for joy and purpose.

Alone, you may seem, but the pain in your heart is the will of the Light telling you what is wrong and exactly how wrong it is. The Light that you are and that the children are will never leave you.

The young. The hurt. The special. The brave. These are the natures of the human beings who heal others and make others want to live. These human beings are of higher spirit, they are afflicted with terrible darkness, abuse and shame, but they do not let it turn them negative, and they do not die in self pity, but they rise up in the strongest possible belief in their spiritual strength to give and become the heroes of their story and heroes for other people, worthy people, the children, when they need it the most.

These are the human beings who create a foundation where the world makes sense. Forever, all of the people we have loved will be reunited with us - The Light simply shines. Forever, away with the abusers and their sexual disorders for how they hurt and imprison the high spirited children into the grey.

After all of my research, the hidden clues I have found, and my intuition, I believe that one day in the future alien beings will descend upon the Earth and pose as highly intelligent, highly loving, and highly evolved beings, only to bring about a sexual revolution that will become sadistic and bring about violence and war. I believe that the fiction surrounding the authority of these alien beings who will genuinely somehow appear on Earth has already been written over the past 100 years through different human beings who claim to be led by these alien beings psychically and interdimensionally. They say the origin of darkness is a diseased meteor and or a rogue artificial intelligence, and not the sexual entity as it truly is because they want to bring about a sexual revolution to hurt children because they, the so called, "Atlantean Aliens," are covertly the people of darkness, hatred and the black dog. They say to keep an "open mind" about the "reptilians" and that "new earth" will be "kinky," in the same breath that they say Jesus Christ is an agent of darkness himself.

In the end, there is only Light. In the end, there is no darkness.

In the end, everything will be known.

In the end, shame and selfishness will not exist. There will only be euphoria forever.
 You will see how everything has connected to everything else when you thought that it did not,
 you will see how meaningful everything was when it all felt meaningless, you will see the power of all things that were thought of as weak, you will see how deeply beautiful the people others thought were ugly truly are, you will see how deeply you changed the lives you touched when you thought you didn't at all,
 and everyone you love the most will be with you again and will never leave you.
 You will drink the sweetest and most refreshing water and it will never stop flowing.
 The spirits of playfulness will intoxicate you without end.
 You will grow into the most vast and alive forest and will cover the world with your love.
 You will finally have the most perfect peace and everlasting joy.
 You will be loved and your love will be loved.

We are the people of Giving and Service.

We Give because it is who we are and we are Strong because we Give.

We will not fear Giving and we will not fear being Strong.

We will strive to Give greater and greater and we will resist the hatred of the sexual entity with every thought we think and action that we make.

We will bring about a vastness of beauty, joy and love into the world through our Service to others, our education of the Light and our works of art.
 We will save our souls from resting in darkness and we will save as many others as we can.

Not a day will pass that we will not say Giving is Strength.

Not a day will pass that we will hate the innocence that is within people.

Not a day will pass that we will be ashamed. Not a day will pass that we will be alone.

We will become the heroes of eternity.

Look closely, the Light shines brightly forever!

Giving is the function of reality.

Who has called themselves the light of the world?

Who has called us all the light of the world?

Who has got down onto their knees to wash our feet, and then turned to us to say that that is how we must all give to and care for one another?

Who has said that children are greatest?

Who has said to let children eat all that they want?

Who has said to love your enemies, not as a desirable food but as a fellow being of giving?

Who was beheaded for writing that God is Love?

Who said that the greatest act of Love is the giving of one's entire life, and then gave it? To forgive us?

Most certainly, the one true God and all true representatives; Jesus Christ.

Where is there more God than in the glance of a child?

You cannot imagine what is coming!

Now behold, how those among us who were never truly like us reveal themselves, and those among us with higher spirit rise up and emerge - Then watch how the beautiful war breaks out! One and two screams will widen eyes and discomfort, and then they will turn to 1000, the veil will be lifted, light and dark will be seen clearly, law will be put into parent's hands, and children will all be respected as the saints among us that they always were! The technological age was hoped by demons to institutionalize sexual abuse, but now it will be used against them to spiritually empower the children in the truth of Giving and the only truth of Giving, for the 21st century we will make heaven overflow!

I need two things:

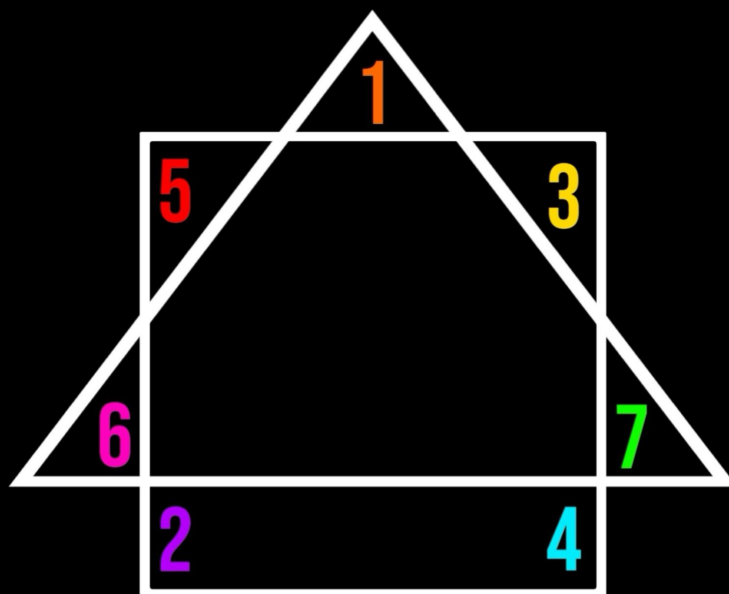

I need those like us to come together and I need ones to carry on the work.

Never be afraid and never be ashamed.

Giving is who we are and Giving is strength.

We are the most powerful and beautiful things to ever exist.

Don't ever be afraid to give and to love.
